Restore Full Mail Service

House Votes 264 To 108 For Two Deliveries a Day In The Cities

By William F. Arbogast
WASHINGTON, Aug. 16—(AP)—The House voted today to restore city mail service to two deliveries a day.

It passed and sent to the Senate a bill ordering the Postoffice Department to cancel an April 17 order cutting city home deliveries to one daily and curtailing other services.

The roll call vote was 264 to 108.

A Senate committee has approved a companion bill. There is no assurance, though, that President Truman would not veto this bill, which would wipe out an order of one of his cabinet officers.

The bill came up for a vote after 218 members signed a petition taking it from the rules committee, which had refused to approve it.

Before passing the bill, the House knocked out a provision which in effect would have committed Congress to appropriate extra money, if necessary, to pay for the restored services. This provision, approved tentatively yesterday, was removed by a roll call vote of 213 to 159.

A move to send the bill back to committee lost by a roll call vote of 261 to 111.

The bill would set aside a Postoffice Department order curtailing delivery and other postal services as an economy move.

The order was issued on April 17. A short time earlier, the appropriations committee had directed the Postoffice Department to reduce the number of daily deliveries, particularly in residential areas. It accordingly cut the department's appropriation and the House upheld the cut.

Brought Quick Protest
When Postmaster General Donaldson issued the order, however, Congressmen complained loudly. A bill to rescind the order was approved by the postoffice committee but bottled up by the rules committee. Then 218 members signed a petition forcing the bill to a floor vote.

Debate yesterday was featured by accusations and denials that politics was a major consideration in the bill and by conflicting claims as to how much money the order would save. The claims ranged from $15,000,000 to $70,000,000 annually, with Donaldson quoted as the source of most of them.

Joyous Day For The Old Maids

DENTON, Texas, Aug. 16—(AP)—Denton rolled out the carpet for the old maids—and they giggled and joked about their spinsterhood—and loved it!

"Bless their hearts, why didn't somebody think of this before," one man remarked.

It was an old maid who thought about it. The idea took hold. The mayor proclaimed yesterday as Old Maid's Day. Merchants gave free corsages, free movies, free taxicab transportation, free shampos all during the day. The Denton Record Chronicle gave a tea.

Unashamedly, the old maids admitted their emphasis was on presents.

"Everybody and everything has a special day except an old maid," said Miss Dorothy Babb, Latin instructor at North Texas State college in Denton.

Miss Babb, who will admit her spinsterhood but not her age, was the one who started it all. She's an attractive, tall, slender woman with graying black hair.

One Drowned When Canoe Overturned
FREDERICKTOWN, Mo., Aug. 16—(AP)—One man was drowned and another swam to safety late yesterday when their canoe overturned in the St. Francis river rapids about 18 miles from here.

The Highway Patrol identified the victim as Martin McHugh, 25, a student at a seminary in Perryville, Mo., W. J. Discom, 27, who was with McHugh, said they were fishing when the boat overturned. Search continued today for the body.

Compromise On Social Security

House Approves 347 to One an Expansion Plan

WASHINGTON, Aug. 16—(AP)—The House gave its final approval today to legislation vastly expanding Social Security coverage and increasing benefits.

The roll vote was 374 to one. The lone opponent was Rep. Byrnes (R-Wisc.).

The House accepted a compromise version of different bills passed by the House and Senate.

The compromise now goes to the Senate.

An effort to knock out one provision of the bill was defeated 188 to 135.

This was aimed at the so-called Knowland amendment, sponsored by Senator Knowland (R-Calif.) and opposed by President Truman.

The Knowland amendment was left in the bill by Senate and House negotiators who worked out differences between the measures passed by each chamber. It restricts the power of the Secretary of Labor to withhold unemployment compensation funds from states when he questions whether the compensation system of a state conforms with federal standards.

The secretary of labor could not withhold the funds until 90 days after he had ruled a state program fell short of federal standards. In that 90-day period, a court in the state involved could determine the question of conformance.

The effect of this is that a state court—not the secretary of labor—would make the final determination.

Accept Thailand Troops Offer

WASHINGTON, Aug. 16—(AP)—Defense Secretary Johnson said today the United States has accepted Thailand's offer of 4,000 troops for the United Nations force in Korea.

Johnson made the statement during a conference with the ambassador of Thailand. The defense secretary added that arrangements for the use of the Thai troops are being made by the army.

Prince Wan Waithayakon, the Thai ambassador, was reported to have assured Johnson that the Thai troops would be in Korea in the near future.

Hal Boyle Gives Account of Tremendous Attack by Air

By Hal Boyle

WITH U. S. FORCES IN KOREA, Thursday, Aug. 17—(AP)—The one-time city of Waegwan, focal point of the war in Korea, is a ruined no-mansland today.

If anyone holds it he is in an uncomfortable position, to say the least. For a week or so U. S. First Cavalry units and North Korean Reds both have sent patrols into the city.

After the B-29's delivered their saturation load of bombs on the Waegwan sector, the First Cavalry sent a tank into the fairly large city to look it over.

The American tank knocked out a Red tank on the city's edge and chased another into the north. The runaway Red vehicle seemed to be making at least 40 miles an hour.

(By Hal Boyle)

IN A 5TH AIRFORCE PLANE, OVER WAEGWAN, Korea, Wednesday, Aug. 16—(AP)—A force of 98 B-29 bombers striking the mightiest air blow of the Korean war is turning a 21-square-mile target north of here into a gigantic smudge pot.

That's how it looks from a grandstand seat in this transport plane—or as if the earth had parted in a sudden volcanic burst.

It is now 12:30 p. m. and the great superforts have been coming over in waves of eight for an hour and a half. Not one single flak shell has been thrown up against them here where ack ack is ordinarily reported heavy.

The enemy appears stunned and paralyzed by the shock of the massive air attack. The bombers, glinting like sleek swans as they swim with lazy grace through a blue sky flecked with light clouds, have dropped to 7,000 feet now to unload their bombs—ten tons for each plane. And still there is no enemy challenger of any kind.

Somewhere hidden in that inferno of smoke, flame and concussion below are some 40,000 North Koreans massed for a knockout blow at Taegu. But today they are keeping their heads down.

Cheered By Infantry

On ridge lines east of the Nakdong river scattered American infantry patrols cheer and wave at the B-29s. It isn't every day the doughboy sees these big bombers ride to his help and blast the enemy with the equivalent of 30,000 heavy artillery shells in two hours.

The target is well defined and so far there has been no mishap such as marred the low level mission of heavy bombers in the St. Lo breakthrough in Normandy. Then hundreds of American soldiers were killed or injured by bombs falling in our own lines.

The bombers are hitting about a mile west of the river, beginning three miles north of Waegwan, in a strip seven miles long and three miles deep, where the bulk of the North Korean attack force of infantry and tanks is believed centered. It is hard to see how it can take a battering such as it is getting now—and mount an offensive soon. In the deepening smoke fall nothing of light can be seen.

As our plane turns homeward the pilot swoops down to within 50 feet of the sandy Nakdong river and races down the eastern bank in an area where the enemy has put across troops repeatedly in an attempt to force a beachhead.

One knocked out Red tank lies in the middle of the river. The hulks of four other enemy tanks lie in an orchard where aircraft caught and destroyed them. Suddenly Lt. Jim Bradley of Van Nuys, Calif., pointed out some pinpoint flashes coming from the hillside and our plane swings up and away.

"Small arms fire," says Bradley.

As the last wave of bombers completes its mission, flights of fighters and bombers roar up. They dip down to strafe and bomb any enemy troops or vehicles attempting to leave the shattered target area.

Prepare For Booth at Fair

The Sedalia Chamber of Commerce office is a busy place getting material ready for the information booth at the Missouri State Fair.

Among the things that will be provided for the fair visitors are maps of the state and surrounding states, Lake of the Ozark information, street guides of Sedalia, directory of the various organizations, list of concessions and exhibitors, bus and train schedules, city directory, phone directory, housing accommodations, maps of the fairgrounds, brochures of Sedalia and various other information needed.

There will be one member of the Chamber of Commerce staff on duty at all times with two members of the following civic clubs, Rotary, Kiwanis, Lions, Optimist and Business and Professional Women.

The booth will be opened every day during the fair from 8:00 a. m. to 9:00 p. m., and will also be the Chamber of Commerce State Fair office.

Leaflets Dropped In Urge of Surrender

TOKYO, Aug. 16—(AP)—American air power brushed the North Koreans yesterday with a feather duster—and then hit today with a massive sledgehammer.

The feather duster: One lone B-29 dropped leaflets urging surrender.

The sledgehammer: 98 B-29s slammed 3,500 quarter-ton bombs at 60,000 Red troops massed in a 26 square mile area for an all-out drive.

No Thought On Seizure Now Of Railroads

Hoped To Resume Negotiations To Avert a Strike

WASHINGTON, Aug. 16—(AP)—The White House said today that President Truman has no thought now of seizing the railroads to avert a threatened nationwide strike.

Presidential Secretary Charles G. Ross told reporters that John R. Steelman, assistant to the president, hopes to resume White House negotiations within a few days in an effort to head off a strike.

Spokesmen for 300,000 trainmen and conductors appealed anew to the president yesterday to seize the roads after negotiations with Steelman ended in a deadlock.

Ross told a news conference that "seizure of the railroads is not now in the president's mind." The threatened strike—by trainmen and conductors who want a 40 hour week with no reduction in pay earned now for working 48 hours, or related adjustments—is the chief immediate concern of government labor officials.

A brotherhood spokesman shortly afterward said President William W. Park Kennedy of the trainmen had authorized yardmen at three strategic terminals to go on strike at 6 a. m. next Monday and to remain out for five days.

The yardmen affected are employed on the Kentucky and Indiana Terminal railroad, with headquarters at Louisville; the Minnesota Transfer railway, with headquarters at St. Paul, and the River Terminal railway, with headquarters at Cleveland.

The brotherhood spokesman said Kennedy had informed the White House and the National Mediation Board of the strike authorization.

Rep. Christopher Voices Protest

By Charles Haslet

(AP) Special Washington Service

WASHINGTON, Aug. 16—(AP)—A protest against any reduction in soil conservation appropriations for 1951-52 has been made by President Truman, Rep. Christopher (D-Mo.) said today.

Christopher called on the President last Friday. He said he also presented his protest yesterday to Secretary of Agriculture Brannan and budget bureau officials.

The Missouriian said he acted after receiving reports the budget bureau planned to recommend a reduction of $150,000,000 for soil conservation for the 12 months starting next July 1, compared with $287,000,000 proposed for this year.

"I recommend that an increase be made over this year's amount, rather than a decrease," Christopher told a reporter. "I was alarmed when I heard of the reported budget recommendation."

He said farmers had been asked during world wars one and two to feed the nation and provide much food for allied nations. If the Korean situation develops into another global conflict, farmers will be called upon to do the same thing again, he predicted.

"We should not weaken our food producing plant in time of peril," he argued. "We have been impoverishing our soil. The soil is the basis of our food and fiber and it must be protected as much as possible."

The funds provided," he said, are used to match farmers' dollars up to a maximum of $2,500 per farmer under certain conditions for liming, terracing, contouring, plowing under legumes and fertilizing grass for permanent pastures.

"This," he said, "is a well-rounded conservation program."

Mighty Blows From B-29s Put Reds To Flight At the Nakdong

Workers Needed at Fort Wood

JEFFERSON CITY, Aug. 16—The Missouri Division of Employment Security reported today approximately 2,000 civilians will be needed to reactivate Fort Leonard Wood.

Of this number, about 400 office workers, 800 skilled and 800 semi-skilled workers will be needed. Job applicants are discouraged in making application in person at Fort Leonard Wood because arrangements for employment of all civilian workers will be handled through local offices of the Missouri State Employment Service in cooperation with personnel offices at the Fort.

Employment of workers for Fort Leonard Wood is now under way in all offices of the Missouri State Employment Service and will continue until all jobs are filled. Great numbers of persons will not be needed immediately, the report stated, due to the necessity of preparation for proper housing and eating facilities. The need for large numbers of persons is expected to develop soon, however. Housing for families is not available at the post and is scarce elsewhere within commuting distance. The rental rate for single workers in dormitory housing is not as yet established.

Other occupational classifications for which there is not an immediate need but which will be required in increasing numbers later, include: Steamfitters, stationary engineers, stenographers and Clerk-typists, shovel and bulldozer operators, plumbers, electricians, welders, pipe fitters, truck drivers, mechanics, maintenance men, commissary and restaurant workers, janitors, storekeepers and construction trades helpers.

All job openings are Civil Service and all workers desiring jobs at Fort Leonard Wood are urged to make application at the nearest office of the Missouri State Employment Service.

Ozark Fair Gives Up "Governor's Day"

SPRINGFIELD, Mo., Aug. 16—(AP)—There won't be a "Governor's Day" any more at the Ozark Empire Fair.

This was to be "Governor's Day," but Gov. Forrest Smith notified Secretary-Manager G. B. Boyd that he couldn't attend because of problems in getting the new state office building and cleaning the capitol under way.

This is the fourth consecutive year "Governor's Day" hasn't had a governor, so Boyd said it just wouldn't be scheduled any more.

Korean Casualties More Than Overcome By Conscription

By Elton C. Fay
AP Military Affairs Reporter

WASHINGTON, Aug. 16—(AP)—How can the Korean Red army have casualties estimated at more than 40,000—yet continue to strike hard and have far more men than when it started?

There are several explanations, some obvious and some assumptions, among them these:

1. Conscription of men in both North and South Korea, a practice used widely in Asiatic wars, has replaced battlefield losses and swelled the over-all strength.

2. Manpower may be filtering down from Manchuria and from Communist China, fed into Red army units in small but steady numbers to augment the North Korean force.

3. The estimates of Red casualties may be too high. Perhaps the original estimate of 90,000 to 100,000 men in the Red army at the start of the war was too low. There may have been many troops in reserve that are just now being sent into action.

Last week the Far East command sent the Pentagon an estimate of about 37,500 total casualties for the Communist forces. Communiques since then contain figures totaling about 3,000 more.

Although the casualty estimate comes from headquarters and field commands, it is, at best, only an estimate.

It is much easier to estimate the strength of the enemy's troops and units of action. They can be

Believe Quake In Burma

Shakes Calcutta Throwing Much Of City in Panic

By The Associated Press

Earth tremors shook Calcutta India Tuesday night, throwing much of the city into panic, but no casualties or damage have been reported here. Crowds ran shrieking into the streets to pray. The official Calcutta seismologist said the center of the quake appeared to have been a point in the eastern Himalayas in China, about 50 miles from the northeast border of Assam.

Earlier some scientists agreed that the earthquake—one of the greatest ever measured by man—may have occurred near the wild fastness of the Himalayan mountains.

The Rev. Daniel Linehan, S. J., head of the Boston college seismograph station in Weston, Mass., said his opinion was "better than a guess" that it probably occurred in the wild Himalayas of eastern India.

British experts decided the giant tremor took place in Tibet, or perhaps Burma. One observatory official placed it between the Himalayas and Burma.

seen across the firing line. Captured prisoners give information of identity of units.

A dispatch from Tokyo yesterday said 15 Communist divisions, with a total strength of possibly 150,000 men, have been identified in and around the Korean front.

Double Combat Units

That would indicate that the enemy not only has made a net increase of about 50,000 in his manpower strength, but has doubled the number of his combat units.

Such an increase in troop and unit strength must mean that the Red army has found ways, along with expanding manpower, to arm the enlarged force. North Korea has some ammunition factories, but beyond that her munitions production is limited. She must get her arms from outside the country.

The Russian spokesman at the United Nations claimed recently that material in North Korea could be only that sold by Russia when her occupation forces withdrew two years ago from the area north of the 38th parallel. His explanation stood only until the Pentagon received from the front a picture of a captured Russian mortar shell, bearing the manufacture date of 1950.

Some questions have been raised about the means by which the Reds continue to get ample supplies of ammunition and food to the front line troops when American

Scatter In All Directions At Point Where Offensive Being Arranged

By the Associated Press

Panicky Communist troops reeled in retreat on the Nakdong river front in Korea today after a giant smash by 98 B-29 Superforts unloaded 1,750,000 pounds of explosives on their offensive buildup.

The massive blow, inaugurating a new role for the giant bombers, was aimed at breaking the back of a 60,000-man Communist buildup across the Nakdong where a kickoff had been expected against Taegu, the main American forward position in South Korea.

Large-scale U.S. reinforcements have arrived on the battlefield in the southwest sector, where Negro units of the U. S. 25th division have been fighting some of the fiercest battles of the war in the area of Chinju, main Communist southern base. The replacement units were not identified as to size or outfit.

May Be Thrown Back

A Communist admission that the North Koreans might eventually be thrown back to the starting point of their invasion was reported from Formosa, island stronghold of the Chinese Nationalists. Reports in Taipei said the Soviet union and Red China have agreed that the Chinese Communists will throw 150,000 troops into the war if the invaders are pushed back to the 38th parallel, dividing line between North and South Korea. Recent arrivals in Taipei from Red China reported that Soviet Vice-Premier V. M. Molotov, said to be in full charge of Communist expansion in the Orient, visited Peiping to arrange the pact. The reports were unconfirmed from any other source.

President Truman spent 20 minutes today with his joint chiefs of staff, reviewing the Korean war, while the nation wondered if the massive superfortress strike meant a turning of the tide which might lead to victory.

Arouses Terror

There were some indications on the main front northwest of Taegu that the enemy might be blowing up the very underwater bridges he laid down for his big push. If this was so, it appeared the Reds expected a ground attack in the wake of the B-29 smash, which reportedly spread terror in Red ranks. Observer pilots reported enemy units stunned and demoralized by the blow.

Some of the enemy troops were "running in all directions" from the flaming, smoking target area after the superfortresses, in the first strike of this kind in their history, saturated 26 square miles of the Red buildup area with 875 tons of bombs. Observer pilots reported some Reds deserting positions east of the Nakdong and racing back across it.

The saturation blow was the equivalent of 30,000 rounds of heavy artillery fire. It was perhaps the greatest concentrated strike that could be made on a front line position short of an atomic attack.

The superfortress took off at dawn in waves of eight, each carrying about 10 tons of bombs.

First Second After A-Blast Can Mean Your Life or Death

Make a Plan of Action And do What You're Going to do Fast

A-BOMB'S FLASH BURNS: Protective effect of thicker layers of clothing can be seen in unburned pattern traced on back of this Japanese victim. Light color clothes are better than dark.

By Wade Jones
NEA Special Correspondent

WASHINGTON — (NEA) — A plan of action for the first second after an atom bomb explodes near you could save your life.

A blinding light will signal the explosion. But don't look toward it. It could destroy your sight if only for a few hours or days.

If you are in the open, drop to the ground. Curl up and try to shield the exposed parts of your body such as hands, neck and face. Lie with your back to the blast, pull your coat collar up around your neck, and fold your hands over your stomach. All this will help reduce flash burns and injury from the blast.

Stay in your curled-up position for at least 10 seconds. By then the immediate danger is over and it's safe to stand up.

If you are outside and within a step or two of some protection such as a doorway, a tree or the corner of a building, get behind it quick. If the shelter is more than a few steps don't try to make it. Just drop and curl up as described above, facing away from the bright light.

After 10 seconds, stand up and try to get under something which will give protection from flying glass and falling objects.

If you are at home or in your office, drop to the floor, back to windows. Better yet, get under a table, desk or counter. The safest places inside a building are alongside interior partitions.

Remember, do what you're going to do fast. You'll only have one or two seconds.

The most destructive and deadly forces of an atomic explosion are flash burn, blast effect and nuclear radiation. The latter is caused by gamma rays and neutrons.

Direct blast injuries are caused by the shock wave of air injuring the lungs, stomach, intestines and eardrums, and causing internal hemorrhage. More important than direct blast injuries in the Japanese bombings were the indirect effects. The latter were caused by collapsing buildings, flying timber and debris, and the like.

In Japan people received cuts and bruises a little more than two miles from the explosion center.

The Japanese explosions indicate that more or less serious skin burns would result if people were directly exposed to flash burn up to 10,000 feet, or just under two miles, from the explosion.

Flash rays travel in a straight line and so only direct exposure in the open or through windows would lead to trouble. Shelter behind almost any kind of object such as a tree or the wall of a house would be effective. Clothing, particularly that which is light in color, is a great protection.

An unusual feature of flash burns is that they are limited almost entirely to exposed parts of the body directly facing the center of the explosion.

Persons facing right angles to the explosion have suffered severe burns on the side nearest the blast and none on the other side. The hands of a man writing before a window were seriously burned. But his face and neck

Harmless Chemical Protects Grain

BALTIMORE — (P) — An insecticide which its makers say is the first to protect grain from insects and yet be harmless to man has been developed here. U.S. Industrial Chemicals, Inc., which has been developing the insecticide for four years, said wheat farmers are now losing up to 45 cents a bushel on their crops because of insect damage.

The new development is intended to prevent insects from invading stored grain. It's not recommended for treatment of grain already heavily infested. The company said the insecticide is not dangerous to humans or animals even when used in quantities far exceeding those recommended. The treated grain can be used for flour and cereal or fed directly to livestock without special processing.

The product is a combination of a new chemical, piperonyl butoxide, and pyrethrins. This insecticide is mixed with pulverized wheat or talcum powder to make it cling to the grain.

Moving stairways soon will be helping jet flight operations. These will be capable of carrying 30 Navy pilots a minute from the hangar deck of a warship up to the flight deck, 28 feet above.

The insecticide now known as DDT first was compounded in 1874, but its practical value was not determined until 1939.

Stanlaws Girls Now Portraits

LOS ANGELES — (P) — Remember "the Stanlaws girl?"

Chances are you won't, unless you've a gray hair or two. But in the early years of the century she was as famous as "the Gibson girl," and it was hard to find a magazine then that didn't have a picture of one or the other on its cover.

Charles Dana Gibson painted his beauties tall, trim and tailored. Penrhyn Stanlaws liked to make them soft and fluffily feminine.

Today at 73 Stanlaws can still draw beautiful girls. But not for 15 years have they appeared on magazine covers. He has become a noted portrait painter. Seven years ago he settled in Hollywood and among his clients were Mrs. Fletcher Bowron, wife of the mayor of Los Angeles, Mrs. Herbert Marshall and Mrs. C. S. Howard, widow of the turf patron.

Roads Honor Airmen Who Saved a Town

WALLINGFORD, Eng. — (AP) — Two roads on a new housing project here will be dedicated to an American pilot and a Canadian engineer who sacrificed their lives for this little Berkshire town during the war.

The roads—yet to be built—will be called Andrew Road and Wilding Road in honor of Sgt. J. F. Andrew of Montreal and Flying Officer J. A. Wilding of the Bronx, New York. In 1942, they kept flying a Canadian bomber in flames, after the rest of the crew had baled out, preventing it crashing in the town center.

Family boats, with one-piece hulls made of impregnated glass fiber, utilize tiny glass bubbles for increased buoyancy. The bubbles are in a product known as Foamglas, which is placed in various parts of the hull.

One of the latest farm devices is a crop dryer. Using combined fan, motor, control, and a heat source, such as an oil burner, it can dry ear corn, small grains, peanuts, cotton seed, hay, and other forages.

RUPTURED? SEE THE DOBBS TRUSS Bulbless - Beltless - Strapless

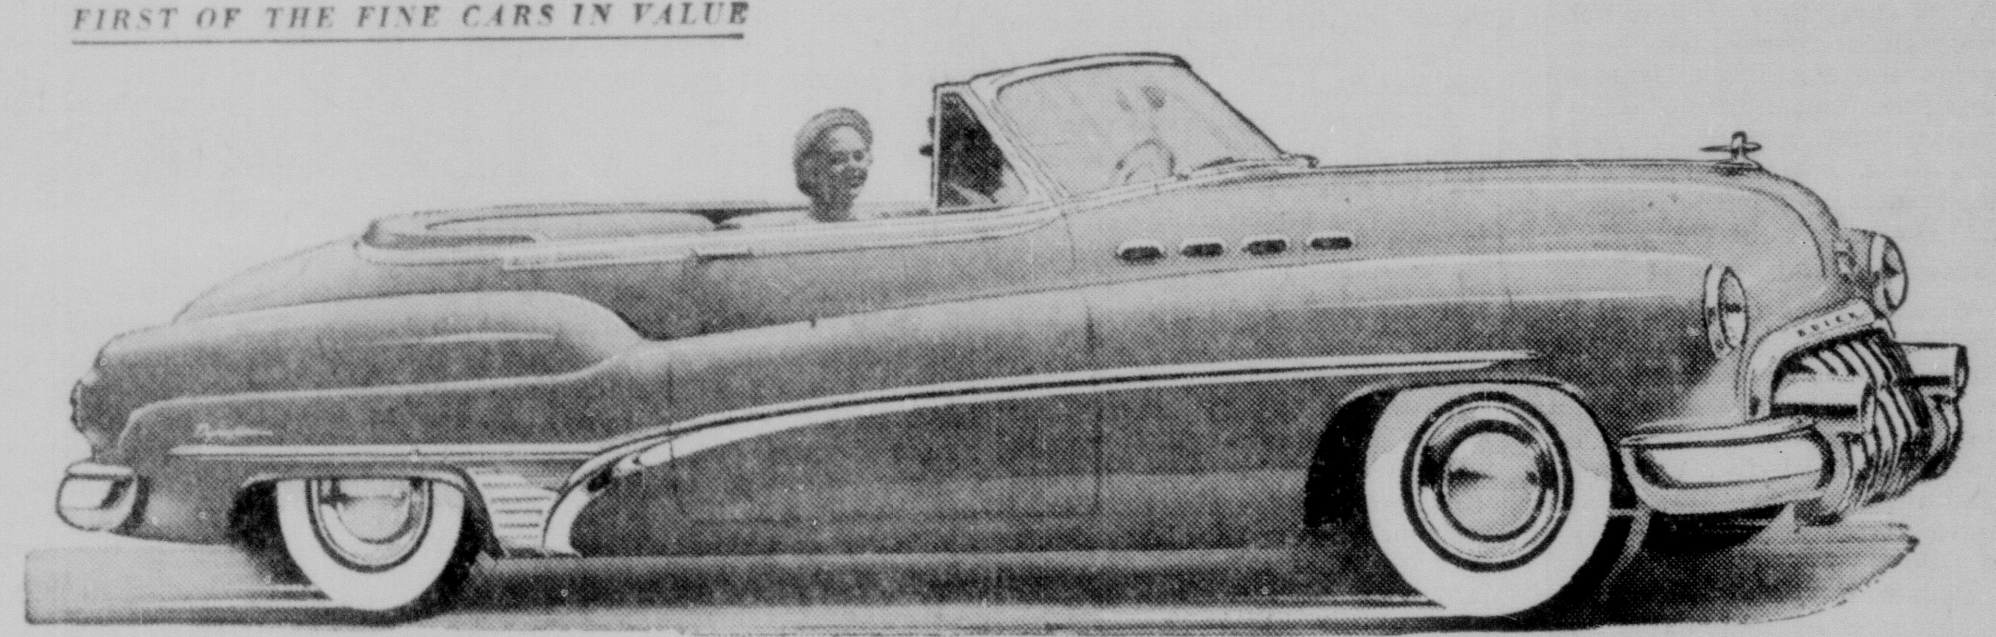

The truss that is different. It holds the muscles in place with a soft CONCAVE pad while walking, working, lifting, swimming. Sanitary—wear them bathing. It only presses the body in two places. Nature teaches you not to force a bulb, ball or any convex pad into the rupture opening, thus spreading the already weakened muscles farther apart. Circulation is important, too.

BIG MOMENT- with a Double Impact

It's a big moment when any new car rolls up to your door and you start out fresh and spanking bright.

Think, then, what it's going to mean when that new car is a ROADMASTER like this one pictured here.

You'll swing wide the door and slide into a car that's truly fine—and looks it.

You'll put foot to treadle and touch off the might of a great, 152-horsepower Fireball straight-eight that's ready to master any road—or anything it meets there.

You'll have the silken magic of Dynaflo Drive to simplify your driving, ease your way. A handsome flexible steering wheel, automatic windshield washers, soft Foamtex cushions, and many other items that are "extras" elsewhere are standard equipment here.

But even while you enjoy all that, you've a still deeper satisfaction enriching your pleasure. For here you have not only a fine car, but a sound and frugal investment as well.

You have paid less per pound than any comparable car costs—and automotive men will tell you price per pound is the soundest measure there is of solid, thoroughgoing merit.

You've bought quality—top quality—all the fine things a fine car should provide. But you haven't spent a penny more than a fine car need cost.

And that can mean a lot. For instance—

Drop in on your Buick dealer. Try out a ROADMASTER. Match it, feature by feature and point by point, with any other fine car on the road.

Then get the price.

You may well find that you can get not only a new ROADMASTER for the sum you had in mind—but maybe a new fur coat for your wife as well!

Social Events

Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Peoples, of Smithton, will celebrate their fifty-first wedding anniversary Saturday night with open house from 7:00 o'clock until 11:00 o'clock. Refreshments will be served throughout the evening.

A family dinner was held in California on August 9, at which guests were: Mr. and Mrs. William H. Schneider, of Sedalia, Mrs. Omega Gorrell, Phoenix, Ariz., Mrs. Sallie Williams, Mrs. Minnie Robertson and Miss Gladys Robertson, of California, Mr. and Mrs. James Alvin Robertson and son, Johnnie, of Jefferson City, Mrs. Clem Wilson, Odessa, Mrs. Docia Howard, Mrs. Edward Meyer and sister, Miss Emma Howard and Mrs. Homer Scott, of Bunceton.

Message From Vice President And Mrs. Barkley

Mrs. George L. Yeager, 308 West Third street, who has recently been ill, received, during her illness, on August 3, a telegram from "The Vice-President and Mrs. Barkley," which is exactly the way the message sent from Paducah, Ky., was signed. It read:

"Sorry to hear you are a little bit under the weather. Hope you will soon be your usual peppy self. Will write in a few days. Warm personal regards."

Mrs. Yeager's granddaughter, Mrs. Chester Kurtz, of Algona, Iowa, the former Virginia Lee, daughter of Mrs. Lela Lee, 308 West Third street, and Mrs. Barkley, the former Jane Rucker, of Sedalia, were close friends when in the grade school, and Jane was a frequent visitor in the Lee and Leager home.

Upon reading of Miss Rucker's marriage to Vice-President Barkley, Mrs. Yeager wrote her. She received an immediate reply and the correspondence has continued. After Miss Rucker's marriage she sent Mrs. Yeager a replica of her going away hat, perfect in detail and in miniature size. The milliner, she wrote, had given her three. Two she was saving for her daughters, the third she sent Mrs. Yeager because of their friendship and, faithful correspondence, which she said meant so much to her.

Recently, when Mrs. Yeager became ill, her daughter, Mrs. Lee wrote to Mrs. Barkley, telling why her last letter had not been answered. The telegram was sent after that, and is prized highly by Mrs. Yeager, because she feels very close to the "second lady of the land" and has since she was little Jane Rucker, of Sedalia.

A nursery will be provided for the children.

The meeting will be open to the public.

Family To Visit Fair First Time

Marilyn Patterson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Patterson, 107 South Quincy avenue, has gone to St. Louis for a visit with Fern Schweigler, and Sunday the two girls will come to Sedalia where Fern will be Marilyn's guest during Fair Week.

It was two years ago that Marilyn and Fern met at the Lake of the Ozarks while their two families happened to be vacationing there and they became good friends. After they went back to their homes they began writing letters to each other and last year Marilyn invited Fern to visit her, which she did, after which Marilyn went to St. Louis to visit Fern.

Now, that none of the Schweigler family have ever seen the Missouri State Fair, Mr. and Mrs. Patterson decided that it was time

Johnson's Military Aide
Offends Happy Chandler

By Tom McNamara and Jack Anderson

(Editor's Note: While Drew Pearson is on a brief vacation, his column will be written by members of his staff.)

WASHINGTON—Defense Secretary Louis Johnson's sagging public relations haven't been helped by the bad manners of some of his military aides, who seem to enjoy getting in people's hair.

A classic example occurred when Baseball Commissioner "Happy" Chandler recently called on Johnson to offer the services of baseball to the war effort. He was met in the outer sanctum by Brig Gen. Louis H. Renfrow. Renfrow was munching on some chewy candy as he greeted Chandler. Picking his teeth with a finger, Renfrow mumbled officiously that he had sent for a personnel procurement officer to "sit in on" the conference with Johnson.

Then, in a painful attempt at humor, the general added: "After all, he's the fellow whose shoulder you'll have to cry on."

The insinuation that Chandler might be seeking special favors—such as deferments for ball players—burned him to a crisp. Trying to contain his anger, he shot back:

"I didn't come over here to cry on anybody's shoulder. I just want to see Secretary Johnson to offer the services of baseball, including myself, to the government."

Still poking at his teeth, Renfrow mumbled something that sounded like an apology.

Navy's Secret

One of the navy's most closely guarded secrets is a project that had priority over the atomic bomb during the war. It is still considered so secret we cannot disclose what it is.

However, we can reveal that the navy entrusted this vital project, involving complex engineering and construction, to an inexperienced company. Later the same navy officials who had made the deal turned up as highly salaried vice-presidents of the company. During World War II, this company was given an unfavorable report by Booz, Allen and Hamilton of Washington, D. C., management consultants.

Despite this and the fact that at least twelve established companies were better qualified to do the work, the navy awarded its secret contract, in February, 1946.

Last week one of the vice-presidents sold out his "interest" for $30,000. However, his contract contained a mysterious clause that he could not bring charges against the company after his resignation. Neither the V-P nor the company's attorney could explain what the company had to hide that such a clause should be inserted.

Too Old-Fashioned

Young Franklin D. Roosevelt, Jr., 36 years old, and twice married, was speaking before a New York state meeting at which 74-year-old Lieut. Gov. Joe Hanley was also present. FDR, Jr., had devoted part of his speech to twitting Hanley, who is scheduled to be the Republican candidate for governor—less Dewey is drafted to run for a third term.

"Governor Hanley is a fine man," said Franklin, "but just a little bit old-fashioned." And he continued to harp on Hanley's old-fashionedness with the indirect implication that he was too old.

When it came Hanley's turn to speak, he met FDR's ribbing with this immediate comeback:

"Yes," he said, "I may be a little old-fashioned. In fact, I am so old-fashioned that I have lived for 49 years with the same wife."

Travel By Rail

With military personnel on the move across the country, the railroads are grabbing the lion's share of the business. This is no accident, but by written agreement with the defense department.

It's not that train travel is cheaper. Railroads give a 10 per cent military discount, but so do the airlines. In fact, air travel is often more economical, considering the meals and pullman charges that are added to the railroad fare. Buses are even cheaper, though perhaps more inconvenient.

When we asked the Defense Department to explain this preference for railroads, a spokesman replied untruthfully: "It is not by virtue of any agreement that the railroads get the bulk of military passenger traffic."

Yet the Defense Department's transportation agreement states flatly: "The railroads' agreement is preferential and is applicable to all transportation furnished on transportation requests of the military agencies." (Section I, Paragraph 3).

Secretary of Defense Johnson promised last year to reconsider this policy, yet renewed the same old agreement on July 1.

NOTE—In practice most long-distance military passengers travel by pullman, which allows no discount for berths. While no one objects to giving our troops the best accommodations, it would be cheaper and quicker in many cases for them to fly. It is also interesting that Undersecretary of Defense Steve Early was formerly a Pullman executive.

Mystified Physician—
Dr. George Calver, the capitol physician, was mystified when Congressman Tom Steed of Oklahoma reported an epidemic of "Tarzan-eyetvs" in Congress. "Don't get excited, Doc," the Oklahoman explained. "That's just eye fatigue from watching our colleagues swinging from so many limbs—like Tarzan."

Once Driven to 38th Parallel,
Korean Reds Will Pose Problem

By Bruce Blossat
We are still struggling to hold a sizable beachhead in Korea. Though our military leaders are confident we can stay on the peninsula, there's admittedly a serious risk to our positions.

Yet even if we should be thrown into the sea, we would come back to smash the Soviet-directed aggression of the North Koreans. So it's fair to ask at this critical period: How far should the aggressors be pushed back?

All our original plans called for driving them only to the 38th parallel, the artificial boundary established in Korea by U. S. and Russian occupying forces at the end of World War II.

Since then high officials both in the U. S. and the United Nations have been wondering whether that will be enough. No decision whether to go farther has been reached, and probably none will be until the necessity for it is greater.

Suppose we decide in the end it is still wisest to halt at the 38th parallel. This will leave the North Koreans with a staging base from which to mount a new attack southward when their Russian masters again should consider the moment suitable.

To be sure, if we give the northerners a thorough pummeling in pushing them that far, their strength will certainly be badly depleted for a long time. We already are pounding their industry and transportation heavily.

But the enemy might succeed in saving fair amounts of material and pulling back substantial remnants of his forces—all this to serve as the nucleus for a new invading army at a later time.

One way to meet that prospect, of course, would be simply to occupy South Korea for an indefinite period. But this obviously could be no more than a tentative solution of the Korean problem.

Korea should be unified. The United Nations tried to achieve unity and failed because Russia would not allow it. There is no reason to believe she ever will so long as she controls the northern area. Except, of course, on her own terms.

The UN now recognizes the South Korean government as the legal government of all Korea. That being so, the legal foundation exists for crushing the puppet North Koreans completely and occupying the whole peninsula with American and UN military forces.

If peace and unity are ever to be brought to that country, it can only be through the permanent wiping out of the invasion threat from North Korea. Anything less than that means an armed truce between South and North which could be broken at the will of the proved aggressors.

Should the U. S. and UN decision be to continue fighting north of the 38th parallel, the move must have full UN sanction. It can't be an American effort, but must be a world attempt to restore lasting quiet to a trouble spot.

One might argue that a drive over the 38th parallel involves risk of general war. The answer to that is: no more than does the present action. If Russia wants war, we shall have it. If she does not, plunging into North Korea will not produce it.

In the Hippolitical World

It's comforting to know that world power politics stops at the zoo gate. Olga, a lady hippo from Leipzig in the Russian zone of Germany, has been allowed to join a boy friend named Knautschke in the West Berlin zoo, lying in Allied occupation territory.

When Germany was divided between East and West, all the female hippos were caught in the Soviet zone. On the other hand, Knautschke, the only male, was in the West. This boded ill for the future of German hippos.

Now even the Russians recognize people need a little fun in life and that zoos help. So Olga, and Grete before her, have been allowed to pass the zonal check points with full diplomatic privileges. There's no iron curtain in the animal world.

Matt. 26:42; II Cor. 12:7-10; Ps. 143:10
PRAYER IS SURRENDER

We have seen that everything from mineral to man has to lose itself in something higher in order to find itself. We love Washington because he lost his Mt. Vernon self in the cause of freedom—he finds himself enshrined in our hearts as the Father of our country. We love Lincoln because he lost himself in the cause of freedom for the Negro—so he finds himself as the Great Emancipator. All life comes to one conclusion: "Sweetest the strain when in the song The singer has been lost."

We lose the "I-that-is" in order to find the "I-that-ought-to-be." This is done by a once-and-for-all surrender, but it is also done as a continual process. The continual process is prayer. Prayer is fundamentally and essentially self-surrender. I once asked Kagawa, the great Japanese Christian, what was the first thing in prayer, and he answered, "Surrender." He was right.

But the idea of surrender cuts across the usual idea of prayer as a method of obtaining from God your wishes. That idea is self-assertion. This is self-surrender. Then is prayer passive submission? A denial of the will to live? Is it the will to die? Far from it. Prayer is a will to die on the level will to live on the level of a victorious, full, effective, and cosmic-connected life. It is self-renunciation in order to find self-realization. Your petty self is renounced in order that your potential self might be realized. Prayer is the wire surrendering to the dynamo, the flower surrendering to the sun, the child surrendering to education, the patient surrendering to the surgeon, the part surrendering to the whole—prayer is life surrendering to Life.

A branch not surrendered to the vine, but cut off and on its own, is not free; it is dead. A person who doesn't pray isn't free; he is futile. He is a blind man who won't surrender his blindness to the surgeon in order to see. He is free—to remain blind.

O God, my Father, forgive me that I fear to surrender my surrendered will to Thy saving will. I am afraid—of life. Help me, as I begin this adventure of prayer, that it may be no side-line activity. May it become me, that I may become Thee. For I must have Thy life to live. In Jesus' name. Amen.

People should be most careful of serious symptoms in themselves and their children. The first question today shows that there are still many people who do not recognize dangerous symptoms when they occur.

Q—One day last week my seven-year-old son complained of pain in his right side. That day his urine contained blood but the next it was perfectly clear and has seemed to be clear ever since.

A—The symptoms suggest something seriously wrong with the kidneys or the urinary passages. Just because the symptoms appeared to clear up promptly does not make it safe to assume that nothing serious is present. The boy should be taken at once for careful and complete medical studies.

Q—Is beer harmful to someone with a leaking heart?

A—There is no direct connection between beer and a leaky heart but too much beer can cause an excessive burden on the heart.

Q—What causes an itch around the nose and behind the ears?

A—This sounds like a form of eczema probably resulting from contact with some substance to which the patient is allergic.

Q—Where the thyroid gland is not working what can be done to put this gland back to work?

A—The functions of the gland cannot be restored by any methods known but the deficiency can be met by taking thyroid extract in proper doses.

Q—My teen-aged daughter has some marks on the skin as a result of acne. Can anything be done for this?

A—Sometimes yes, sometimes no. Recently a report has appeared on the favorable effects of a method of using sandpaper. Other physicians have not yet confirmed

LOU BRYER explained why he had to have a look inside the briefcase Phajol left in the hotel strongbox: "A lot of diamonds was stolen from Maekling's New York office recently. The employee who pulled it was trapped. He confessed and then swallowed poison. But the diamonds never turned up. For my money, he passed the diamonds on to Phajol."

I wasn't convinced. "When I asked you if any stones had been stolen recently, you said no."

"Well, I want to be a pal, Del, but that was confidential. The plan was to trick the fence who got the Maekling stones into thinking the thief hadn't been discovered."

"There was no point in your looking into Phajol's briefcase. You couldn't have identified the diamonds."

"No, but Gremcheck could." That much was true. Gremcheck would have been able to identify the stones. Then I remembered something Phajol had told me.

"How were the stolen stones divided, between carbon and balts, that is?"

Perhaps I should explain that carbons are black diamonds from Brazil and balts are crystal diamonds from Africa. Carbons run higher in value than the crystals.

Bryer finally decided to answer: "About half and half, running from a quarter carat to a carat in size."

I hoped my expression didn't betray my inner suspicions.

"I knew as soon as the clerk handed me the briefcase," Bryer went on, "Twenty-five thousand carats would weigh about 14 pounds. The whole thing didn't weigh that much. Guess what—Phajol had filled it with pebbles!"

"Only 20,000 carats were stolen, you said. How did you know Phajol brought twenty-five?"

"Dominico told Gremcheck. Five thousand were Phajol's own—or he had fenced them for some other thief."

I regarded him. "Why did you call Pat Phajol, threaten her and pretend you were Gremcheck?"

Bryer eyed me with new respect. "You do get around, Dell. I see no harm in answering your question. I was with Gremcheck in the hotel when Phajol left. Gremcheck authorized me to pretend to be him. I figured Phajol's daughter wouldn't know his voice and she'd pass on the message. If her father called off his Copper City trip it meant that he had the Maekling diamonds."

"But he didn't call it off." Bryer shrugged. "There must have been an understanding between Dominico and him. Dominico must have known the stones were hot and he arranged to buy them at a bargain price. We couldn't have touched him and he would have got away with it."

I sighed. "Mind if I talk to Gremcheck?"

"I see no reason why not. Let's go down to his room."

GREMCHECK'S room, No. 17, was one door from Pat's, which was No. 15. It was a corner room and very large. Gremcheck admitted us at once. He was a distinguished looking character with a pince-nez. I had seen him, but I had never met him. Bryer introduced us. Gremcheck gave me the dead-fish handclasp.

"Dorsam regards us both as murder suspects," said Bryer. Gremcheck drew himself up in dignified indignation.

"I'd be careful, Mr. Dorsam, with accusations. You are skating on thin ice. You can fool that small-town police chief into thinking the diamonds are in the safe downstairs, but we both know different. Phajol's murderer got those diamonds."

"You may know more about that than I do."

Gremcheck removed his pince-

nez. Bryer felt that he had to do something for his firm's influential client.

"Dorsam, it's all right for you to work at being a detective, but Mr. Gremcheck doesn't have to put up with abuse."

"I came here for information. Mr. Gremcheck isn't the only man I suspect. You're No. 1 on my list. Phajol's killer had to know the diamonds weren't in the safe. You knew that. So did Gremcheck. Nobody else did—to my knowledge."

Bryer regarded me with narrowed eyes. "Foster, the hotel clerk, could tell by the weight as I did."

"If he was an expert. But he couldn't have killed Phajol. I was talking to Foster when Phajol was killed."

Bryer's lips curled slightly. "That's what you say! The chief thinks different—for one!"

I LEFT. I went down the hall to Pat's room again. I rapped. There was no answer. I banged ever. She had gone out. I crossed to my own door. I unlocked it, opened it and stepped inside.

It was about 5:30 when I woke up. When you're conked, you just go to sleep and don't remember anything until you wake up. The first thing I remembered was an awful headache.

I went into the bath and looked at myself. I looked pale. There was no mark visible, for I'd gotten it on the back of my head. There was a bump there, and it was very tender. I bathed my face in cold water. I took notice of the fact that the window opening onto the lobby roof was lifted about two feet.

My phone rang. I answered it and recognized Mike Dominico's voice.

"I want you come out to my ranch," he told me. "I got important business proposition. You come right away, yes?"

"Right away, yes, only I've no car."

"My man Rodriguez pick you up."

Johnny Knows Mom's 'Please' Means 'Stop . . . or Else'

Here's a vocabulary of parent-hood and real meaning of the phrases so often used:

"I've told you for the last time." Johnny probably wishes he had heard that particular command for the last time, but, of course, he hasn't. It's just easier for a parent to call it the "last time" than to try to remember how many times he or she has given the command in the last half hour.

"If you're a good boy . . ." is a way of giving a promise that parents hope will give them an extra dividend. Johnny will get whatever has been promised if he is good or bad—but Johnny isn't supposed to know that.

"Teasing isn't going to do a bit of good." That's what parents say just before giving in. If teasing wouldn't do a bit of good, kids wouldn't tease so much.

"Well, we'll see about it" actually means: "Run on and leave me alone." It usually works for a little while because it is one of the hardest adult answers a child ever comes up against. And he comes up against it constantly in his dealings with grown-ups.

Parents Say One Thing, Mean Another

"Run along and play now" means "Get out of my way." Mama doesn't really care if Johnny plays or not, just so he gets out of sight and out of ear-shot.

"I'm surprised at you" always means that Johnny has been doing something he shouldn't. No parent ever admits being surprised by a child's being exceptionally good about anything.

"Please don't darling," is a company manners substitution for "Stop that instant or I'll . . ." but it's rarely as effective as the latter.

"All right—but be careful" is the way parents have of shifting their responsibility for a child's safety into the laps of the gods. This is used when they give him permission to do something they know is dangerous.

What's Right? LNI

You are with your husband and two small children when you meet an acquaintance that only you know.

WRONG: Introduce your husband but don't include the children in the introduction.

RIGHT: Always introduce your children to strangers so that they will feel part of the group and will learn to meet people easily.

A—I doubt if anyone knows the cause. The hairs, however, can be removed by electrolysis.

Q—Could infected tonsils or sinusitis cause a person to have positive sputum?

A—I presume this means the presence of tubercle bacilli in the sputum. Tuberculosis can affect almost any part of the body but the source is much more likely to be the lungs than either the tonsils or the sinuses.

Q—Can people tell whether a baby is to be a girl or boy by the shape of the mother?

A—No. People have tried this again and again and get about half of them right which is exactly what one would expect merely by chance guessing.

United Nations Information in Soviet Union

By A. I. Goldberg

LAKE SUCCESS — Russia has charged that United Nations' attempts to halt the North Korean aggression lowered U.N. prestige in the Soviet Union—but it is hard to find out just how popular the U.N. has been there.

U.N. headquarters itself doesn't have a clear idea. It has some reports from the U.N. information center in Moscow. The reports show that a certain amount of U. N. documents have been distributed there and that the center has had visitors—800 at year. But the U.N. doesn't know how the documents got distributed.

These fragmentary reports reveal only that the U.N. message has never been carried to Russia's millions on the same large scale as it is done in the United States, by schools, colleges, civic clubs, newspapers, radio and voluntary organizations that work for support of United Nations efforts.

A recent U.N. document, entitled "Teaching About the United Nations and the Specialized Agencies," carries 75 pages of reports how the U.N. is brought home to the people in the western countries. It is a report to the economic and social council meeting in Geneva, signed by Trygve Lie, U.N. secretary-general, and Jaime Torres Bodet, director-general of Unesco.

One paragraph says "Information on the publication of materials on the United Nations has been received from White Russia, Czechoslovakia, Poland and the Soviet Union. No details have been given as to the administrative machinery through which these are being distributed, but it is assumed that responsibility lies with the Ministry of Education in each country."

Also the report does not list any activity during 1949 in any iron curtain country, except Czechoslovakia. There it makes a fleeting reference to U.N. reports forming a part of history and civics lessons in the schools.

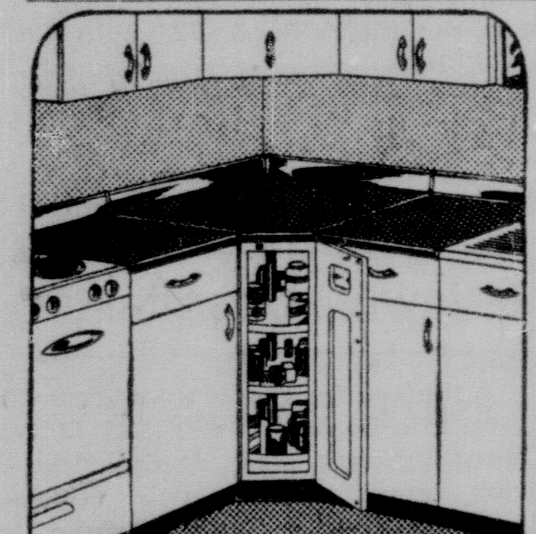

Some up-to-date unofficial figures, however, indicate that about 33,000 U.N. booklets and other literature and several dozen documentary films were given some distribution in Russia through the U.N. information center in Moscow.

There are 16 such U.N. information centers in the world. Most of these centers—not all—are headed by U.N. appointees who are not nationals of the country where they are stationed.

The head of the Moscow U.N. information center is a Russian, Michael S. Vavilov, who used to be head of the Russian Embassy information section in Washington. He was sent to Moscow as acting director when the center opened.

One former Moscow correspondent (Joseph Newman, of the New York Herald Tribune) now stationed in Berlin reported last June that few Russians know the office exists. Lie denied that after he came back from Moscow on his save-the-U.N. tour of Europe. He said Muscovites saw the blue and white U.N. flag flying over the center at 15 Hohlovski Pereulok, Moscow, and that U.N. officials used the offices on their visits.

Lie did not say then, however, how much the Russian people themselves used the center. New information from Moscow asserts that ordinary citizens were among the 800 visitors to the center during 1949 and said they saw U.N.

India Delays Car Factory Action

NEW DELHI, India — (P) — The government has decided to provide foreign exchange for the import of knocked-down cars and trucks by assemblers until the end of 1952, the industries ministry says.

The government had announced earlier that, to encourage manufacture of cars in India, exchange facilities would be given only to firms planning eventually to manufacture cars here. The extension was granted because some foreign firms—reportedly General Motors and Ford—had not reached a decision on their future policy.

Add Jail Terms To Two Fined

Careless and reckless driving about the city has slackened some since a warning several days ago by Police Magistrate Jerry Trotter and Chief of Police Edgar Neighbors. But two persons were arrested Tuesday night, the first in four days, and they learned the two city officials mean business on their warnings—both were given jail sentences as well as fines in police court this morning.

Virgil Gatewood, 705 North Prospect avenue, charged with careless and reckless driving while drinking, and who figured in an accident near Twenty-second street and Ohio avenue, was fined $75.00 and given fifteen days in the city jail. He pleaded not guilty and a hearing was held.

Charges of careless driving against Paul A. Paxton, 2117 East Broadway, driver of the other car, were dismissed following the hearing. However, the court lectured Paxton on driving regulations.

Gatewood was driving a 1930 Ford sedan and Paxton a 1931 Ford sedan when they collided on South Ohio avenue. Both cars were damaged considerably. Gatewood's face had numerous cuts on it.

Richard E. Goadler, 710 East Fourth street, John Corbett, 16, 907 North Grand avenue, John Billingsley, 16, 717 West Eleventh street, and Bob Keightley, 17, 117½ East Main street, were passengers in the Paxton car. The boys receive nothing more than slight bruises.

Fine and Jail Term

A fine of $50 and ten days in jail were given Thomas W. Hutchinson of Vienna, Mo., who pleaded guilty to charges of reckless driving while drinking. He was arrested at Highway 65 and 50 in intersection by State Trooper Pete Stohr following an accident about 5:30 o'clock Tuesday evening.

Hutchinson was driving a 1949 Ford Sedan and his car collided with a 1948 Buick convertible driven by Samuel Highleyman, Jr., 1020 State Fair boulevard. The right side of the Hutchinson car was damaged and left side of the convertible damaged in the accident.

Twelve overtime parkers failed to appear in police court, this morning and their cash bonds of one dollar each were ordered forfeited by Magistrate Trotter.

A social hour followed with Mrs. R. T. Phelan, Mrs. T. E. Shoemaker, Mrs. Joe Self and Mrs. Walter Cramer as hostesses.

Receives Degree

Robert L. Wild, son of Mrs. A. B. Wild, 1302 West Fifth street, received his doctor of philosophy degree at the University of Missouri on August 4.

Following a short vacation in Sedalia, Mr. Wild, Mrs. Wild and son, James Robert, will leave for Grand Forks, N. D., where he has accepted a position at the University of North Dakota as a physics instructor.

He spent one year at Broadway school teaching the fifth grade and in 1946 he taught general science at Smith Cotton high school.

Koehan Casualties More Than Overcome By Conscription

ican air attacks constantly cut off highway and rail routes from North Korean depots. The explanation given at the Pentagon and at Far East headquarters seems simple enough: The enemy's supply problem is quite different from ours. He lives off the land, requisitioning food as he needs it. Conscription labor carries his ammunition, back-packing it along trails when highways and rail lines and bridges are bombed out. Even his gasoline requirements are modest compared to ours. He has lost a quantity of tanks and vehicles, reducing the amount of fuel needed.

What about the picture on our side?

Casualties? The most recent report (issued August 7) gave a total of 2,616 for the American army. There never has been any attempt to estimate the casualties for the army of South Korea. That army, originally numbering about 96,000 troops and organized in eight divisions, was badly cut up in the early stages of the war.

One high ranking officer, asked today about the constantly growing strength of the enemy and our situation in the Korean beachhead, made two points:

1. We too are building up, toward the time of offensive.
2. We still are about two weeks ahead of the position we thought we might be pushed back to when the enemy began his all-out offensive with a surge past Seoul and then later across the Kum river line.

Twenty Blows From B-29's Put Reds To Flight at the Nakdong

They flew a mile west of the Nakdong, beginning on a strip three miles north of Waegwan, and systematically dropped one 500-pounder every 150 feet. The area is about 15 miles northwest of Taegu, U. S. forward base where the bulk of North Korea's attack force was believed centered.

Created Consternation

"It is hard to see how it can take a battering such as it is getting now," wrote AP correspondent Hal Boyle, who flew along with the raiders in a transport-observer plane.

The attack apparently spread confusion through Red ranks on the northern flank of their attack on the Nakdong defense line, while a lull fell over the rest of the battlefield. No sooner had the B-29s glided off from their merciless strike than Allied fighters and bombers roared in, strafing and bombing any targets they could find. The North Koreans spotted fleeing were running away without their packs and rifles.

While the B-29s roared in to drop their 3,500 bombs, each weighing 500 pounds, American infantrymen stood up in their foxholes and cheered. Before the operation, Maj. Gen. Emmett (Rosie) O'Donnell, chief of the Far East Bomber Command, who directed the strike from a B-29 weather plane, said he did not know if it would do any good, but "the North Koreans are down there and we think it will."

After it was over, a B-29 crewman commented: "We hope, by God, we were able to do something for the boys on the ground."

Never before had B-29s been used in mass support of ground troops.

Is Quiet Elsewhere

A lull fell over the other sectors. This was the situation: Two Red bridgeheads have been established across the Nakdong below Taegu, the provisional South Korean capital. The biggest was near Changnyong, 23 miles southwest of Taegu, where weary U.S. 24th division troops battled a bridgehead containing 12,000 Red troops. The Reds had pushed to points seven miles beyond the river.

The second bridgehead was about 15 miles north of Changnyong, at Hyonpung, 12 miles southwest of Taegu. Tuesday night the Communists put a bridgehead over here about 1,500 strong.

To the north in the Waegwan buildup area the Reds had thrown across probing attacks, but none had been considered serious as yet. After the B-29 strike Reds across at these points were reported fleeing back and possibly even blowing up their own underwater bridges. The Americans sent patrols across to the west side of the river after the B-29 strike and they saw frightened Reds digging in, apparently expecting a ground attack to follow.

U. S. intelligence reports said the Communists up to yesterday had lost about 40,000 men in casualties.

SOUTH KOREAN FRONT. Thursday, Aug. 17.—(AP)—The first large-scale reinforcements from the United States for Negro infantrymen fighting in South Korea have arrived at the battlefield.

Elements of the U. S. 25th division, manned by Negro troops, have fought some of the fiercest battles of the war in the southwest sector.

They drove within a few miles of Chinju in the first American offensive of the war.

Mrs. Bermudez's daughter, Alberto Jean Clark, 10 years old, is also a patient in the Missouri University hospital with polio, in a light form, and is getting along satisfactorily. Mrs. Bermudez is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Roberts, 900 West Henry avenue, and has been in very poor health for the past few years. Word received by her mother Tuesday night was that her temperature had gone down and her condition was improved.

Decide For Selves As To Vision

NECEDAH, Wis., Aug. 16.—(AP)—Thousands of spectators from many states who yesterday heard a Wisconsin farm wife relay a message she said she had received from the Virgin Mary, trekked homeward today with mixed reactions.

Standing before an improvised shrine in her farm yard, Mrs. Mary Anna Van Hoof told a hushed throng that the Blessed Virgin had exhorted them all to "pray, pray, pray."

Mrs. Van Hoof claims she has seen the mother of Christ six times before in visionary appearances here.

The spectators—estimated to number nearly 100,000—had to decide for themselves whether to discount or believe the claims that had drawn them there, for they saw nothing unusual. But unusual in itself was the huge assemblage around the Shrine erected where Mrs. Van Hoof says the Blessed Mother had visited her since last November.

Mrs. Van Hoof, 41, emerged from her home shortly before noon and, as the throng stilled, knelt before the image of Mary standing in the midst of several trees some 30 feet from the house. She rose and blessed the people with a crucifix, then knelt again. Her lips moved, but no sounds were heard. She rose once more after a few minutes and in a tense voice spoke to the masses.

She repeatedly urged her listeners to "pray, pray, pray." "The enemy of God is all over America," she told the crowd. "Pope Pius XII is in danger unless we pray, x x x I want to warn of Korea. It won't end unless we pray. Our Bishop must remember my warning of Fatima. Black clouds are coming over America. Alaska is the first stepping stone. Remember the Pacific coast. Remember now, only prayer will save us."

Restore Full Mail Service

Proponents of the bill argued that the order was hurting business, individuals and members of the armed services who want mail delivered promptly. They said economies could be made in other postal services.

Opponents said the people generally weren't dissatisfied but wanted economies wherever possible. They claimed the major opposition to the order came from mail order houses and a letter carriers' lobby.

There was no clue to what fate lies in store for the bill if and when it reaches the Senate. That body has failed to act on a House-passed bill increasing postal rates to help offset the postal operating deficit. And its leaders have made no plans to consider the House bill ordering the mailman to ring twice again on city routes.

But Rep. Rees (R-Kas) said there is no doubt in his mind about what the president will do if the bill reaches him.

"It will be vetoed by the president, I'm sure," he told the House. "The bill survived a narrow escape in the House yesterday, when Rep. Walsh (D-Ind) got back from a speaking trip just in time to call it up for action. Under the parliamentary situation, he was the only member who could call it up."

By A. B. WARREN BLACKLEG

We have had a few reports of Blackleg or Malignant Edema so far this summer. This is one disease that leaves you helpless to do much about after the animal has contracted it—for one reason it generally kills before you are aware of it usually in 12 to 36 hours. It is more prevalent in calves from 6 months to 2 years of age but may occur in younger and older stock.
Blackleg and Malignant Edema are very similar and cannot be distinguished in the field.
Since the combination vaccine or bacterin sells for only 12¢ a dose it should be used exclusively.
As with other preventive medicine it sure pays to vaccinate—so if you have not already vaccinated—don't wait—vaccinate.

Two Games For Chiefs at The Park Tonight

Mexico B. J. Team is Playing Here; First Game Starts at 7 p.m.

The Sedalia Chiefs take Mexico to task in a doubleheader tonight at Liberty park in the Southern Division of the Central Missouri Ban Johnson League. The game starts at 7:00 o'clock, and both games will be seven-inning contests and league games.

Doubleheaders

Rain the past several days has made it necessary for doubleheaders to be played in an endeavor to catch up with the league and bring it to a close by August 22. It will be a busy week for the Chiefs, with the twin bill tonight; at Moberly Thursday night, and two games with Jefferson City, a game with Columbia and another with Mexico.

Efforts are being made to get the park diamond in condition for the games tonight. The right outfield is covered with approximately three inches of water in places, and only the sun can rid the field of this water. Ditching the outfield to drain it would make it too dangerous for the players.

Chiefs Are Leading

The Sedalia Chiefs are leading the league at the time with a six win-two loss record, while Columbia is pushing close behind with a seven and three standing. If the Chiefs can win the second half of the league play, they will be undisputed champions of the Southern Division, having won the first half, which ended early in July.

A tie would mean a play-off for the second half; losing the second half, they would still have to be in a play-off with the winners. The champs of the division will then play the Northern Division leaders for the league championship.

Columbia Close Behind

MOBERLY, Mo., Aug. 16.—(P)—The next-to-last week of play in the Central Missouri Ban Johnson League finds the Columbia McKays virtually tied with the Sedalia Chiefs for the Southern Division lead.

In the Northern Division it's a different story, the Brookfield Bombers leading the Unionville Packers by 1½ games. The Bombers, champions of first half play, may clinch the second half flag with victories this week over Unionville and Chillicothe.

Twelve games are carded for teams in the two divisions through next Sunday. The schedule: Northern Division—Macon at Chillicothe, Brookfield at Unionville, Wednesday; Kirksville at Trenton, Thursday; Unionville at Kirksville, Wednesday; Kirksville at Trenton, Thursday; Unionville at Kirksville, Friday; Chillicothe at Brookfield, Trenton at Macon, Sunday.

Southern Division—Boonville at Mexico, Sedalia at Moberly, Jefferson City at Columbia, Thursday; Columbia at Boonville, Mexico at Moberly (2), Sunday.

Levis Win Over Lincoln 5 to 0

Norman Thompson pitched the Levis to a 5 to 0 shutout over the Lincoln Merchants in the first round of the District Softball Tournament play which got underway at Marshall Monday night before a capacity crowd.

Thompson pitched a superb game giving up but three hits while his teammates collected nine off the offerings of Eken, the Lincoln pitcher. Simons did the receiving for the Sedalians.

The Levis scored their first run in the first on 3 hits. In the third they picked up three more runs on three hits, and a sacrifice, one of these hits was a home run by John Swisher the Levis left fielder.

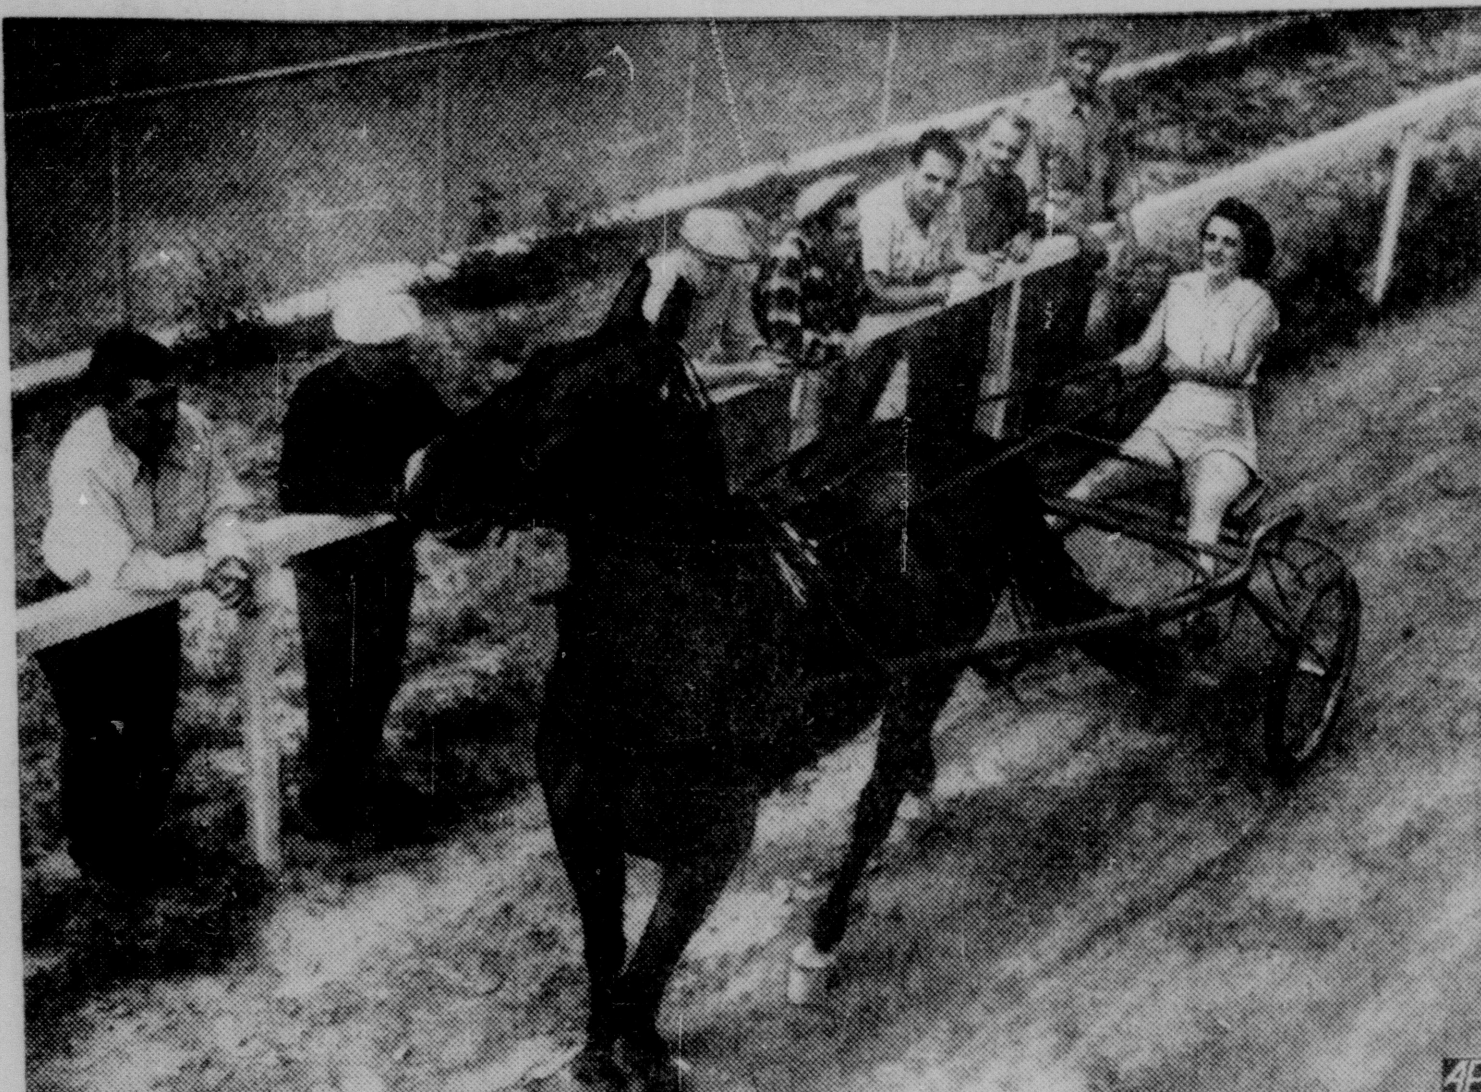

The 5th run the local boys made was in the 6th on two hits and a fielders choice.

John Swisher lead the hitting attack for the Levis with a perfect night at the plate getting 3 for 3. Rocky Carver obtained two for three for runner-up.

Freund the Lincoln shortstop was the leading hitter for his team getting two of their three hits.

In the opening game of the tournament the Sweet Springs V. F. W., defeated the Young Farmers of America from Marshall by a score of 8 to 6.

The Levis will play Sweet Springs V. F. W., in their second round of play tonight with the game beginning at 9:30. All players will meet at 420 Wilkerson at 7:00 o'clock to leave for Marshall.

Dropo Is Hit On Head By a Pitched Ball

Some Accused Wyse of Throwing Him Bean Ball

By Joe Kelley

BOSTON, Aug. 16.—(P)—Boston's Red Sox, and their legion of supporters, thought it was rough when they lost Ted Williams and his menacing bat, but now the fourth-place club must get along for a time without big Walt Dropo and his heavy bludgeon.

The slugging rookie, who leads the American league in runs batted in, was struck just above the left ear by a Hank Wyse pitch last night and is under observation for a cerebral concussion.

Wyse, righthanded pitcher for the Philadelphia Athletics, not only insists "I never threw at a man's head in my life," but intends to visit the rugged Boston rookie today.

The "beaning" occurred in the fifth inning of the first game of a two-night doubleheader last night at Fenway Park, at a time when the lights were on but full darkness hadn't closed in. Some immediately accused Wyse, former Chicago National League hurler, of throwing a bean ball because Dropo had hit for a two-run homer in the previous inning and Vern Stephens had hit him for another two-run four bagger just before Dropo came to bat.

When Walt, former star all sports athlete at University of Connecticut, dropped—the blow sounded as if the ball hit his bat—players of both teams streamed toward the plate.

A melee developed and after it had been quieted Boston catcher Birdie Tebbetts, who wasn't playing in the game, was ejected by the umpires.

Birdie, a real team man, wasn't around to give his side of it. But several of his team mates reminded: "If there's a jam, you can count on Birdie bein' there to help you out."

Explanation Given Sox Manager Steve O'Neill, who did think Wyse should have been thrown out of the game for fighting along with Tebbetts, said after the doubleheader: "No, I don't think Wyse threw at him (Dropo). Walt sometimes seems to have trouble getting out of the way of a high inside pitch."

Wait said as much himself. He told Trainer Jack Fadden: "I could hear everything that was going on. I knew Tipton (A's Catcher Joe Tipton) and the umpire (Joe Paparella) were trying to keep me flat and all I could think was 'why don't they get me outta here.'"

"The ball was just a blur and I couldn't seem to get out of the way."

Wyse explained it this way: "I threw him a high sinker. He had hit me for a homer on a low sinker before and I was interested in keeping the ball high on him."

"The pitch that hit him," continued Wyse, "was the same kind that I threw him just before I hit him and he belted that one for a line foul."

"It was the same pitch Stephens hit for a two-run homer just before."

O'Neill and Stephens agreed in substance with that.

As of today the Connecticut giant leads the league with 113 runs batted in. He's second in homers with 27. His batting average on 136 hits is a classy .330. bat in 98 games is a classy .330. Ironically, the skinny kid whose job he took, Billy Goodman, will be back at first base until Walt returns.

It was an early season leg injury to Goodman which prompted the Sox to send a SOS to Louisville for Dropo to play first. "The big guy, who, too anxious, couldn't hit a year ago and was demoted to the minors, played so well Goodman had to sit on the bench until Williams fractured his elbow in the All-Star game. Since then Goodman—hitting .340—has staked out the left field pasture as

Charles Wins Heavyweight Boxing Bout

Champ Won After the Bout Was Called in Fourteenth Round

By JACK HAND

BUFFALO, N. Y., Aug. 16.—(P)—Ezzard Charles, bullied by mauling Freddie Beshore during the early rounds, stopped the Harrisburg challenger in 2:53 of the 14th round last night in the third successful defense of his NBA heavyweight title.

Referee Barney Felix halted the contest with blood streaming from Beshore's puffed right ear and mouth while the crowd roared its displeasure.

The lean Negro champion from Cincinnati never dropped the swarming Pennsylvania Dutchman although he had him in trouble several times. Charles appeared ring rusty and off in his timing after a 10-month lay-off.

Beshore's onrushing style of infighting bothered the champion no end. He fought in spurts, apparently not sure of himself. Gathering steam in the late rounds, he bombed Beshore with withering body and head punches.

Charles Held Early Lead

Referee Felix had Charles out front 12-2 when he stepped between the blood drenched battlers. Judge Anse Carroll saw it 12-1 with one even. Judge Leo Stachowiak had Charles out front 9-3 with two even. The AP card saw 10-2 with two even.

The end came suddenly, just when it appeared that the 5-1 underdog challenger was going to last the route. A smashing right staggered Beshore as he came out of a clinch. Another right to the head, followed by six straight punches without return, left Beshore wobbling in midring with his hands down. Noticing the blood, streaming from the ear cut, Felix intervened.

With a Joe Louis match, practically set for Yankee Stadium Sept. 27, Charles took few risks. He said later he had him figured out in the first round. Still the champion wound up with a cut left eye that also dripped blood.

Timing Was Off

"My timing was off," said Charles in his dressing room, "I couldn't get a good right hand shot at him. The guys I trained with were more or less standup guys. I didn't know he was going to fight that way."

Jake Mintz, Charles' manager, said he had a conference scheduled tomorrow with New York officials of the International Boxing Club to discuss the Louis match.

If Ezzard didn't expect Beshore to fight that way he was about the only person in the small crowd who didn't. Beshore, strictly a mauling body puncher, came out in a crouch, bobbing and weaving with head low trying to avoid Charles' heavy artillery. Sometimes he hid. More often he didn't.

Crowd With Beshore Beshore had a good share of the crowd with him because he gamely insisted on carrying the battle to the champion at close quarters. After three dull rounds, Charles opened up and in the fourth, a left uppercut—one of his best punches he tonight, knocked out Beshore's mouthpiece.

Again in the seventh he sent the bell.

The finals were played between South Abell and Prairie Ridge, the former winning 10-11. The third and fourth place game was between Georgetown and Flat Creek with Georgetown winning 15-13 for third place.

South Abell previously defeated Georgetown 10-9 while Prairie Ridge had defeated Flat Creek in the first rounds 21-9.

Base umpires were Tommy Weliver and Bob Welliver of Flat Creek 4-H, Broadus Wiley of Prairie Ridge; Donald Lewis of Georgetown, Olen Monsees of Smithton 4-H and Wilbur Alexander of Hazel Hill.

Cardinals Fail In Late Rallies

By The Associated Press

What happened to those late-inning rallies that made the St. Louis Cardinals famous?

Things are going the other way. The club has suddenly lost its ability to close ones. On their third, swing around the league, an unhappy trip just ended, the Cardinals lost 13 games and won only eight.

Seven of the 13 defeats were suffered by one run.

Truman Asks Benefit Pay For Families

WASHINGTON, Aug. 16—(P)—President Truman asked congress today to begin benefit payments this month to dependent families of American servicemen, with a top limit of $150 a month for any family.

This would include deductions from the servicemen's pay as well as government payments. Mr. Truman sent the administration's proposal to both houses of congress in a lengthy message from the budget bureau.

Under the administration plan: 1. A dependent wife would receive $75 a month, plus $25 a month for each dependent child—but not more than $150 altogether. 2. A dependent parents would receive $60 a month for one person or $70 for two.

Total Not Over $150 But in the case of a serviceman with a dependent wife, children and parents, the combined total could not exceed $150.

The bureau recommended that in such a case, where more money was needed for the combined family dependents, the serviceman should be discharged from active duty.

The bureau also proposed that the serviceman should contribute as his share the lesser of two sums:

1. Either one-half of the total family allowance.

2. Or 60 percent of his pay.

The message recommended that no family allowance be given in the cases of servicemen in the top three and one-half grades in all the armed forces who already receive $67.50 a month allowance for quarters.

The administration's proposal came as the armed service committees of both the senate and the house moved to draft legislation as quickly as possible in response to reports that some families of servicemen have already begun to suffer financial hardship.

The budget bureau said the benefit payments should begin Sept. 1, with payments covering the month of August. They would include those who entered the armed forces on or after Aug. 1.

Considering Compromise Chairman Tydings (D-MD) of the senate armed services committee told newsmen following receipt of the administration's message that he was considering a "compromise" — somewhere between the $50 basic benefit payment of World War II and the $75 a month proposed by the budget bureau.

Tydings suggested $65 might be about right.

Earlier in the day, a modernized plan patterned after World War II family allowances was submitted by the armed services.

It provided $75 a month for dependent wives, plus $25 for each dependent child—with no limit on payment for extra children. In addition, it proposed that a dependent parent would get $75 a month, or $90 for two.

During World War II, the family allowances plan cost about $10,000,000,000.

Mo's Capitol Gets Bath

JEFFERSON CITY, Aug. 16—(P)—It's going to cost $170,546 to give Missouri's 30-year-old capitol its first bath.

That was the amount of a contract awarded by the State Board of Public Buildings today to the Schell Construction Company of Jefferson City.

It covers cleaning the outside of the building, waterproofing, painting outside woodwork like window sills, glazing skylights in the house and senate chambers, repairing concrete walks and steps and re-roofing the building.

Gov. Forrest Smith said only Schell and the Koch Construction Company of St. Joseph submitted bids for the entire job. Koch's bid was $188,984. Several other firms bid on parts of the work, but the governor said their offers were generally higher than Schell's.

The work starts next week. The

More Muscle for the Navy

Navy Planes +1100

Cruisers +2

Destroyers +32

The navy will add 48 more fighting ships and 1100 planes to its present active force, according to Rep. Carl Vinson, chairman of the House armed services committee. Biggest bulge in the navy's new muscle is the addition of nine more aircraft carriers, increasing the total in service from 15 to 24. The two de-mothballed cruisers boost the cruiser force to 15 and the additional destroyers bring that arm's strength to 172 active ships. Number of submarines now operating is not announced.

Schell company already is busy painting the interior of the capitol—a $31,000 job.

The outside of the building, grimy from the smoke and dirt of years, will be cleaned with a combined water and sand blast—a method approved by the Carthage Marble Company which supplied the stone.

Still to be let in the general re-furnishing project are contracts for cleaning the murals and repairing the dome, inside and out.

The building board had a $400,000 appropriation for all the work.

India Appears to be Making Amends for UN Hindrance

By J. M. ROBERTS, Jr.,
AP Foreign Affairs Analyst

India's latest suggestion for quieting the raucous United Nations Security Council seems to be a move on her part to get back on the right side after a series of bumbling steps which have interfered with U. N. policy in Korea.

In advocating a small-nation subcommittee to which the Korean case might be referred, Sir Benegal Rau gets away from the Nehru-Stalin idea of tying in the admission of Communist China to U. N. membership. He also emphasizes the U. S.-U. N. policy of unconditional withdrawal of communist forces to their own territory before a settlement can be discussed.

India Policy Settles

Thus the India pendulum, which Nehru has swung from the "impartial" extremes of condemning communism one day and western policy the next, seems to be settling down to a more restricted swing, near the center of the problem.

The significance of the committee idea as it applies to Indian policy may perhaps be emphasized, also, by the fact that it is not original, but had already been discussed in American circles.

Under the plan, which India will probably make formal by a motion Thursday, all of the big powers would be frozen out of the discussions, which would be carried on by the six non-permanent members of the council, three of whom have recognized Communist China and three of whom have not. The committee would be empowered to hear such witnesses as it desires—North or South Korean or whatnot—and would permit India to assume a role of leadership for which she has been angling desperately but amateurishly.

Committee's Power Limited

The committee could do no harm on the main issue of the Korean war, and might do some good. But of course it isn't apt to be established, because it would counter two Russian policies.

It would accept the legality of the Security Council ruling of June 25 that North Korea is the aggressor. It would vitiate Russia's main reason for returning to the council—the need for a propaganda sounding board in an effort to build up Asiatic resentment of western intervention.

On the basis of precedent, too, Russia always opposes placing issues in the hands of the small nations, or in any way relaxing her hold on them.

Western reaction to the Indian proposal seems to be that there is no harm in it, and not much good either. They recall that the small nations committee was unable to do anything about the Berlin blockade during the 1948 General Assembly meeting in Paris. It is also pointed out that Russia has only a few more days to go in the Security Council chair, and that then things can be controlled a little better.

There is some feeling, too, that Malik's propaganda is not doing the job it was designed to do, and that it may be a boomerang which it may be just as well to let him keep on playing with.

Gas Heater Exploded Two Burned Critically

MERCER, Mo., Aug. 16—(P)—Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Goodin were critically burned Tuesday when an automatic gas heater exploded in the basement of their home.

Mrs. Goodin had taken matches to her husband in the basement and he was attempting to light the heater when the explosion occurred.

Mrs. Goodin's clothes caught fire and the couple's 16-year-old son, Dwayne, extinguished them. Neighbors put out the fire in the basement of the home.

Goodin is a prominent farm operator in the Mercer area. He is 52 and his wife 50.

Area Near Thayer is Suggested Bomb Site

WASHINGTON, Aug. 16—(P)—Missouri congressmen said that Democratic members of their delegation have decided unanimously to recommend an area near Thayer, Mo., as a site for a proposed hydrogen bomb plant.

This area comprises 70,000 acres of cut-over pineland owned by the U. S. Forest Service near where Shannon, Ripley, Carter and Oregon counties meet.

Members said Rep. Carnahan (R-Mo.), in whose district part of the proposed site is located, is expected to inform the Atomic Energy Commission of the group's decision yesterday and to urge consideration of the site.

Senator Kem (R-Mo.) said last night Carleton Shugg, acting general manager of the commission, has invited backers of two Missouri locations to submit data on acreage, water supplies and power availability needed by AEC to gauge the value of the sites.

One of these locations, Kem said, is the Thayer area, the other a track in Washington and Iron counties.

Rare Ozark Animal To The Smithsonian

WASHINGTON, Aug. 16—(P)—Specimens of one of the world's rarest animals the blind cave-dwelling typhlotriton, have been given to the Smithsonian Institute, it was announced today.

Dr. C. G. Goodchild of the Southwest Missouri State College, Springfield, Mo., presented 23 of the long, slender, nearly transparent creatures to the institution. These white salamanders are born with good eyesight the institution explained in a statement, but are in the process of evolution toward loss of their eyes.

The typhlotriton, the institution said, is found in limestone caves of the Ozark mountains.

Vets Administration Answers Inquiries

Since the beginning of hostilities in Korea, the Veterans Administration has received many inquiries concerning the individual rights of servicemen and women under the complexities of the Soldiers' and Sailors' Civil Relief Act.

Since Congress has not authorized the VA to give legal advice nor has it appropriated funds for that purpose, the VA is not prepared to furnish personal counseling regarding individual rights under this Act, W. F. Fidler, Jr. of the Veterans Administration, said today. "For that purpose," Fidler advised, the counseling service of the American Bar Association or any other bar association.

Don't Be Satisfied With Symptomatic Relief! RELIEVE THE REAL CAUSE OF YOUR STOMACH DISTRESS—

indigestion, Gas Pains, Heartburn, Bloating when Due to Vitamin B<sub>1</sub>, B<sub>2</sub>, Iron and Niacin Deficiencies

ONE OF THE GREATEST BLESSINGS OF THE TIMES!

Here is some wonderful news for you folks who suffer so from stomach disturbances (indigestion, gas, heartburn, sour "risings" in your throat after meals) because your system lacks the important Vitamins B<sub>1</sub>, B<sub>2</sub>, Iron and Niacin.

Now—thanks to the great new HADACOL—you can actually relieve the REAL CAUSE of such stomach disturbances caused by these deficiencies. A marked improvement is often noticed within a few days' time. And continued use of HADACOL not only gives continuous, complete relief but helps prevent such distress from coming back. That's the kind of product you want—the kind you should buy—the kind you should start taking immediately.

Anyone would be very foolish indeed to be satisfied with symptomatic relief, when HADACOL now makes it possible to relieve the very cause of this stomach distress due to such deficiencies—know the joy of eating the foods you like without belching and suffering gas pains, heartburn and torturing indigestion afterwards!

How HADACOL Works...

HADACOL not only supplies weak, run-down, deficient systems with extra quantities of Vitamins B<sub>1</sub>, B<sub>2</sub>, Iron and Niacin but also beneficial amounts of precious Calcium, Phosphorus and Manganese—so vital to help maintain good health.

And these vitamins and minerals come in special liquid form so that they can be more easily and quickly absorbed and assimilated in the blood—ready to go right to work at once. HADACOL even reinforces your red blood cells (where iron is needed) to carry these healthful elements to every organ in your body—to the kidneys, lungs, liver and heart—even to the nails, eyes and hair.

Start taking HADACOL at once. HADACOL costs only a small amount a day. Trial-size bottle, $1.25. Large family or hospital size, $3.50.

Just a Few of Thousands of Folks With Such Deficiencies Who Have Been Helped!

Alton E. Brazile,* 905 Blythe Street, Memphis, Tennessee.

wants our readers to know: "I've been bothered with my stomach; I went on diets which made me very weak. I tried everything and spent hundreds of dollars to no avail until I tried HADACOL. My stomach quit bothering me after the second bottle. I have a better appetite and feel fine. Thanks to HADACOL."

Pretty Mrs. Alma Kincaid,* 2125 East Adelaide Street, St. Louis, Missouri, told us this: "I want you to know how much better I feel since I've taken HADACOL. I've had stomach distress for quite a while. But nothing did me any good. They just said I had a nervous stomach. This is my second bottle of HADACOL and I really feel fine. I'm not nervous; I never feel tired. I can eat anything I want to."

J. Strivacka,* Route 2, Box 88, Burton, Texas, sent us this letter: "I've suffered from stomach gas and bloating for some time. I had no pep in the morning, felt sick. But with the first bottle of HADACOL I felt much better. With the second bottle I felt still better. Coated tongue is gone. I never felt as good. Thanks to HADACOL."

Mrs. I. E. Nelvis, Sr.,* 2622-A St. Vincent Avenue, St. Louis, Missouri: "I could hardly eat anything at all that did not hurt my stomach. Now I eat anything I want and it doesn't hurt me. I can't praise HADACOL enough and have recommended it to all my friends and neighbors. I feel much better since I have been taking HADACOL."

Mrs. Alton C. Stotesberry,* Monroe St., Plymouth, North Carolina: "I am 33 year old. I have suffered distress from my stomach off and on for quite some time. I had to almost give up and stay in bed. Nothing has helped me like HADACOL. I have just taken it for two weeks. I have gotten bottles of relief. I think HADACOL is wonderful. My husband is 41 years old. He started taking HADACOL today; I am going to start giving it to my children."

Marcus Matthews,* Route 1, Vanzant, Kentucky: "I had been bothered with my stomach. Everything I ate disagreed with me. But after taking 3 bottles of HADACOL I can eat anything and feel fine at all times. I don't have to take any more soda after each meal. I can recommend HADACOL for your stomach."

"Hey! I want a drink, not a shower!"

"Ma-MA! I want my MA-MA-A-A-A!"

When a thirsty boy on a hot day finds a garden hose at large in the back yard, anything can happen—and did, to two-year-old Neil Walsh, of Cleveland, O. But when catastrophe catches him, Neil, like any two-year-old knows exactly what to do. Flop on the ground and cry real hard. That brings mother to the scene and mother can fix anything—even a mess like this.

Patrolmen Surprise Alleged Safecrackers

Jack H. Moore (foreground) and unidentified companion in western garb (left) hold guns on two men who they said they caught in act of burglarizing a drug store safe at Lubbock, Texas, in an early morning raid. Moore, co-owner of a bonded patrol, said the two suspects had cracked one safe and battered knob off another, releasing flood of tear gas which, together with warning shot from patrolmen, drove men from store. Charges of burglary and possession of narcotics were filed against Louis N. Murphy (standing) and Melvin Cecil Hodges (lying on sidewalk). Narcotics and jewelry are shown on sidewalk. (AP WIREPHOTO)

'Man-of-Many-Headaches' Fights Criminals; Public Too

VIRGIL PETERSON: "Corruption . . . is an absolute must for . . . crime."

By JACK HARR
NEA Staff Correspondent.
CHICAGO — (NEA) — Former FBI Agent Virgil Peterson probably has more headaches than any other man in Chicago.

In his unique position as director of the Chicago Crime Commission he frequently finds himself at odds with not only criminals, but law enforcement officials, politicians, and even the general public as well.

Peterson is sort of a super trouble-shooter, functioning as the leader of a civilian group working to reduce crime, improve laws, and improve law enforcement. His commission is the watchdog of Chicago's criminal procedures. It is the self-imposed conscience of the public.

The Chicago Crime Commission is supported entirely by public subscription, and has no official authority. It can only suggest, probe and prod. It was formed by the Chicago Association of Commerce in 1919 during the crime upsurge after the first world war. Following Chicago's lead, prominent citizens in many other major cities have launched similar organizations.

An Iowan and an alumnus of Parsons College in his home state, Peterson graduated from Northwestern University's law school and worked with the FBI for 12 years before taking over at the Chicago Crime Commission in 1942.

His work received national attention when he was called to testify before the Senate crime investigating committee earlier this summer. The slim, graying, 46-year-old crime veteran described the set-up of nation-wide crime syndicates for seven hours to the Kefauver committee.

Peterson thinks that the work of the community may reduce crime considerably, but he firmly believes any real solution will have to come on a local level.

"This is because corruption of local politicians is an absolute must for the existence of organized crime," he says. "And this corruption inevitably seeps down to many law enforcement officials."

Political corruption and public apathy are the two chief bugaboos Peterson is fighting. As long as people are indifferent about the existence of handbooks and refuse to think much about prostitution and the "rackets" big-time crime

Leslie S. Ladd, Jr., of 34 Cleveland Avenue, Nashville, Tenn., sure knows his HADACOL. He, his mother and his grandfather get precious Vitamin B-1, B-2, Niacin and Iron from this family product.

"Mamma, we haven't taken our HADACOL," says Leslie when his mother forgets sometimes. Mrs. Ladd explains, however, that hers will always be a HADACOL family because it has helped relieve deficiencies of Vitamin B-1, B-2, Niacin and Iron for herself, little Leslie and her father.

TAKES 10 BOTTLES

Read Mrs. Ladd's own statement of their experiences once they learned that they were suffering from such deficiencies and began taking HADACOL: "I have taken 10 bottles of HADACOL. I have been run down since my oldest son was born. I am 23 years old. I have had very little appetite and I had weak spells every morning. I would almost faint but after taking HADACOL they are gone and I stay hungry all the time.

"My four-year-old son had little appetite and his cheeks were pale. He now takes HADACOL and his cheeks are rosy and he has a wonderful appetite. I also had gastric disturbances, but they are gone now. My father took HADACOL for the agonizing aches and pains of neuritis. He is much better now."

WONDERFUL HADACOL FEELING

HADACOL is that wonderful new preparation — promising blessed relief for your indigestion, stomach disturbances (gas, heartburn), sour "risings" after meals), for normal growth in children, as well as that general run-down condition, and aches and pains of neuritis, if your system lacks Vitamins B-1, B-2, Iron, and Niacin.

HADACOL is being recommended by many doctors. HADACOL is so amazingly successful because if your system lacks Vitamin B-1, B-2, Iron, and Niacin it acts directly to relieve this deficiency—the real cause of your trouble. That's the kind of product you want—the kind you should buy—the kind you should start taking immediately.

Only One Genuine HADACOL

Don't go through life suffering such fiendish torture from your stomach or aches and pains of neuritis when relief is as close at hand as the nearest drugstore for sufferers from these deficiencies. Buy HADACOL today. Trial size bottle only $1.25. Large family or hospital size, $3.50. Refuse substitutes. There's only one true and genuine HADACOL.—Adv.

will run rampant, he believes, adding: "These activities provide the bulk of the underworld's 'easy money.'"

In the face of these two factors, Peterson and his crew of trained investigators, most of them with FBI experience, are handicapped. Whenever they detect a violation of the law or a dereliction of duty by government or police officials, the year only report it to city authorities.

It is up to the city then, and any permanent action is a rarity.

In one sensational case this summer, the commission's work received wide attention when it released a report criticizing law enforcement in Chicago's 35th police district. The Grand Jury took notice and launched an investigation with everybody from Mayor Kennelly through police captains and sergeants down to the patrolman on the beat called to testify. For well over a week Chicago newspapers headlined the case every day.

No indictments were returned and the investigation died out despite editorial protests and a demand by the grand jury that the following Grand Jury carry on.

Peterson's group is making some headway with its public relations program, but the underworld is becoming public relations-minded, too. Gangland killings, which always arouse public opinion have declined noticeably. And Frank Costello, leader of the New York underworld, has gone so far as to hire his own public relations consultant who calmly submits press releases to the newspapers like any other publicity man.

The Japanese merged three sections of Taipei, the capital of Formosa, into one city in 1920.
